PRODUCT SPOTLIGHT

NOW IN STOCK AT KCES:

The newest item at KCES is the Smart Strip® from Coleman Cable. All electronics draw some power even when they are in sleep mode or turned off. For example, a computer monitor uses up to 30 watts even in sleep mode. That adds up to about $2.19 a month or $26.67 a year* in energy costs. Other computer peripherals and home entertainment equipment can draw over 50 watts when off. It's easy to see that the energy being consumed by all of your "sleeping" electronics really adds up.

The advanced technology in the Smart Strip® combined surge protection with automatic power control. It automatically turns off power to printers, DVD players, and other electronics when they are not in use, saving electricity and money. Being green just got easy!©

Available in 7 & 10 outlet versions. Be sure and ask your salesman for more details or click here (email version newsletter) to see the brochure online: smartstrip.pdf
